PUBLIC-SCHOOLS WEEK

The job of teaching our youngsters how to be good citizens is second to none in importance. How well or how badly that job is done will affect their individual welfare and the stability of our country in the years ahead.

The American public schools play an indispensable part in this training for good citizenship. These schools not only equip the young people with academic knowledge, but help to instill in them a deeper respect for law, greater tolerance, and an appreciation of good habits.

Every year as a means of stimulating greater interest in our public schools system a special week is set aside, known as Public Schools Week. This year it will be observed from April 26 to May 1. During that week it would be well for all citizens to visit the public schools and see the work that is being done. Those who do will gain a greater appreciation of our educational system and will realize more fully the necessity of protecting it from the undermining influences so prevalent today. A strong public schools system is essential to a strong America.

THIS WEEK IN HISTORY

Three years ago this week on April 25, 1945, the diplomats from half a hundred nations gathered in San Francisco to draft a charter for the United Nations.

It was a day of new hope for the world. It was a day which many sincere people believed would mark the beginning of a new era in international relations—an era of peace, decency and justice.

In looking back it now seems very clear that too much was expected of the conference in view of the sharp ideological divergencies which were known to exist between the East and the West. But most of us found it hard to believe that any country would not cooperate wholeheartedly in the interests of peace.

It serves no purpose now to lament the loss of what might have been. In three years we have come to the reluctant conclusion that all men are not yet willing to guarantee the peace by curbing their own greed and aggressive inclinations. Faced with this fact America is today wisely taking such steps as seem necessary to prepare us for any possible future conflict.

At the same time, however, we must not accept the argument that the United Nations has failed completely. Instead, let us say that it has not yet succeeded—and then work with renewed vigor to help make it succeed. However dim the prospects of success may be, we owe it to ourselves and to the world to fight on for a lasting peace.

THIRTY-THIRD PARTY

Students at the University of California in Berkeley have formed a Thirty-Third, or "Anti-Anti" Party. Something for everybody is promised including a Ph.D. in two years, free vacations in Siberia and three-room apartments. It advocates an end to all pleas or petitions which are "anti" anything. Oh, yes, it promises $10,000 for everybody "without discrimination." That's almost outbidding the GOP, the Democrats and Wallace.

BOGOTA

The "Red" uprising in Bogota has left our State Department with a red face. The Department had plenty of advance notice about the trouble brewing in Colombia, but apparently no one, including Secretary Marshall, took it very seriously. Failure to accurately estimate the gravity of the situation may have been due to the fact that an important message from our intelligence agents in Bogota was suppressed by a "very junior" employee of the State Department. What good is it to have an intelligence service if its findings are either ignored or its reports sidetracked? And why should "very junior" employees be allowed to decide on which messages shall be transmitted and which shall not? Some immediate changes in method and probably in personnel would do the State Department a lot of good.

STASSEN'S STRENGTH

If Harold Stassen continues to display as much political punch as he has in Wisconsin and Nebraska the Republican "Old Guard" will be forced to acknowledge that he has moved up from the middleweight to the heavyweight ranks. From the surprise expressed over these victories it is apparent that few politicians realized his ability as a vote getter. His successes in the primaries are forcing Senator Taft and Governor Dewey to step up their campaigning to a fever pitch. Taft is especially worried. His Nebraska showing was very poor in spite of energetic support from Senator Butler of that state. Now he is wondering what inroads Stassen will make in the Ohio primary in May. If the Minnesotan grabs a half dozen or more of the delegates in that election, Taft, like General MacArthur, will be well on his way to the political boneyard.

AIR MINDED

When the House of Representatives voted 343 to 3 to approve an additional outlay of $800 million for the Air Force, it not only dealt the Administration a resounding wallop but indicated that the lawmakers are sold on air power.

Particularly embarrassing to President Truman and Defense Secretary Forrestal was the fact that the House chose to ignore their proposal for a 55-group air force and accepted the recommendation of Air Force Secretary Symington for 70 groups.

The controversy between Symington on the one hand and Forrestal on the other shows that the "merging" of the armed forces has not eliminated rivalry and squabbling among our defense chiefs.

SPORTS

Sportsmen Win Jefferson League

The amazingly tricky Sportsmen from the Excelsior district ran from the Thursday night's playoff game, to thump the Colma Boys Club, 48-38, and take final possession of the Jefferson Basketball League crown.

The fans, most of whom were for the local boys, at times found themselves applauding the wrong team as the Sportsmen put on a demonstration never before seen on these courts. After getting off to a very slow start "our favorite sons" put on a demonstration of their own, but just couldn't lessen the ten point half-time gap as the fantastic play of the Sportsmen never did let up.

To stand out in such a game in which each of the ten players looked excellent, indeed deserves praise. Such praise deservedly goes to Benny Greenough of the Colma Boys Club. Benny was all over the court. He played a terrific floor game, really playing his heart out. Another standout was Tom Dillon, sportsman and unanimous choice for the all-league team. High scorers for the game were Selly 12, and Greenough 10, for the Boys club; and Tom Dillon 13, fones 12, for the Sportsmen. Half-time score was Sportsmen 26, Colma 16.

The champion Sportsmen team consists of Joe and Tom Dillon, forwards; Hurley, center; Race and Valente, guards; with Antracoli, Atkins, Jones and Page very capable alternates.

The opening game between Visitation Valley Community Center and the Eagles, though less spectacular than the playoff game that followed, was a good game to watch. The Eagles came out on the better end of a 23-18 score, giving them fifth place in the league, thus putting them in the top half. McCall's 8 points were high for the Valley, and Giacosa scored 7 for the Eagles.

Final league standings:

	W	L	Pts.
Sportsmen	9 <td>1</td> <td>18</td>	1	18
Colma Boys Club	8 <td>2</td> <td>16</td>	2	16
Alex Johnson Roof... ..	7 <td>2</td> <td>14</td>	2	14
Union Liquor	6 <td>3</td> <td>12</td>	3	12
Eagles	5 <td>4</td> <td>10</td>	4	10
San Bruno A. C.	4 <td>5</td> <td>8</td>	5	8
Visitation Val. C. C. 3	3	6	6
Ware, C.I.O. Union..	3	6	6
San Bruno Lions	1	8	2
Army Hilltoppers	0	9	0

Ten Leading scorers:

Joe Dillon, Sportsmen, 108; Bob Savelly, Colma Boys Club, 90; Jack Murray, Union Liquor, 85; Red Dunn, Union Liquor, 75; Mulnix, San Bruno A. C., 66; Bill Wright, Alex Johnson Roofing, 65; Don Welsh, Eagles, 61; Ben Greenough, Colma Boys Club, 61; Haskins, Army, 59; Dederman, Colma Boys Club, 54. (These figures do not include playoff game.)

All-League Teams

Here are the all-league teams as several men connected with the league and I have agreed upon them. First team: Tom Dillon, forward, Sportsmen; tricky, smooth, excellent ball handler, and leading scorer; Bob Savelly, forward, Colma Boys Club; fast, excellent ball handler; tricky dribbler, among top scorers; Hurley, center, Sportsmen; good team man, fine rebounder, defensive man, offensive threat; Ted Prescott, guard, Alex Johnson Roofing Company; best rebound man in league, good eye, good team man, and good all-around player; Bill Nassano, guard, Colma Boys Club; also great rebounder, a scraper, consistent, dependable.

The dividing line between the first and second teams is not very wide. The first team was chosen for teamwork, consistency, and proficiency in position. Here is the second team: Red Dunn, forward, Union Liquor; Jack Murray, forward, Union Liquor; Bill Wright, center, Alex Johnson Roofing; Don Welsh, guard, Eagles; Benny Greenough, guard, Colma Boys Club.

Competition at forwards was particularly fine. Such outstanding forwards as Ben Parodi, Colma Boys Club; Haskins, Army; Pat Johnson, Johnson Roofing Co.; the Jow brothers, San Bruno Lions, and Andy "Scooter" Parodi, Eagles, had to be excluded as did others. Guard, Bob Rodde of the Eagles and center Art Valverde of the Colma Boys Club were also outstanding players in the league.

Congratulations To the Sportsmen for the outstanding basketball display they provided in winning the league lead, and to the Colma Boys Club, runnersup. Also to John Matthews for planning and running the smooth, exciting, and entertaining basketball league.

Thanks

To official scorer Richard Archie whose close cooperation helped make these articles possible; and to timekeeper Steve Ward, who was also a great help.

Afterthought

Joe Sarto certainly deserves praise from the community for his unselfish sponsoring of the Colma Boys Club basketball and basketball teams. Joe furnishes them with the best equipment, uniforms, and coaches. Incidentally, Sarto gave his fine basketball team of the current league a swell banquet at Lyle's in South San Francisco last Wednesday night.

MONO COUNTY TROUT PROSPECTS

Trout anglers should enjoy good sport when the season opens along the West Walker River from Leavitt Meadows downstream to Antelope Valley in Mono county. Best fishing should be had in the meadows area where the river is not too rapid, and eggs, worms, and spinners should all work well.

OFF THE BLOTTER

MAY 1 MARKS EVENTFUL DAY FOR FISHERMEN

The Division of Fish and Game has issued a reminder to California's 800,000 sport fishermen to mark May 1 on the calendar as an eventful day.

On that Saturday, most of the 1948 angling regulations set by the Fish and Game Commission will take effect, with the following important changes:

Summer trout season opens for six months in all parts of the state. The first year-round open season on black bass, crappie, sunfish and perch begins in inland lakes and streams.

Bag limits of salmon will be reduced to three in some streams and bays.

Bag limits of striped bass will be two to five fish.

No more than five Pismo clams may be taken per day.

Bag limit on mullet taken in the Colorado River area will be reduced to six fish.

Scores of additional streams and lakes will be closed for conservation purposes by executive order.

Aside from certain exceptions to the new regulations, the Division advises a fisherman to determine whether specific areas are closed by orders of local governments due to extreme fire hazards.

Abstracts of old and new regulations will soon be available at Division offices and many license agencies.

The Division of Fish and Game reminds local sportsmen of the following regulations which apply to current hunting and angling:

JACKRABBITS—All year open season, except San Bernardino, Los Angeles, Orange, Riverside, Imperial, and San Diego counties. No bag limit. Hunting license required.

FISH—Taking of bass, catfish, sunfish, mullet, oaks, crockies, crabs, clams, and ocean fish is now legal in some areas. Consult fishing law abstract for detailed information. 1948 fishing license required.

STRIPED BASS—No closed season. Daily bag and possession limit: five per day. None under 12 inches. 1948 fishing license required.

ABALONES—March 16 to January 14. Limit: 10 abalones with not more than five red species. Minimum size for red abalones, seven inches; green, six and one-half inches; pink, six inches; black, five inches. May not be possessed out of the shell. 1948 fishing license required.

FROGS—North of summit of Tehachapi mountain range only. March 1 to November 30. Bag limit: 24 per day, 48 per week. None under four inches. No license required.

Although no bag limit now applies to salmon taken in Pacific Ocean waters and bays from the Oregon border to Ventura, new regulations effective May 1 will limit salmon catches in those waters to three fish.

The Division of Fish and Game reminded salt water anglers that the 25-inch size limit will continue, with fishing legal between one hour before sunrise and one hour after sunset.

Something new in fish migration will be witnessed this month when the California Division of Fish and Game in cooperation with the Federal Fish and Wildlife Service provides truck transportation for the spring spawning run of salmon up the San Joaquin River.

Extreme drought conditions have caused impassable sand and gravel barriers to form in the river, checking the vital egg-laying mission of the adult salmon. Considered one of the best salmon streams in the state, future fish populations of the San Joaquin have become imperiled by the record low water level.

Biologists of the Bureau of Marine Fisheries earlier this month constructed two stations where fish will be removed from the water by nets and placed in tank trucks provided by the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation. The first loading station at San Joaquin City, near Ripon, will be used if recent rains failed to provide sufficient flow for fish passage beyond that point.

The alternate fish loading station is located at Hills Ferry, near the mouth of the Merced River, 30 miles upstream from the first loading point.

In specially constructed tank trucks, the fish will be taken 40 or 70 miles to a point upstream in the river where they will be liberated in sufficient water to continue their migration.

Senior Aquatic Biologist Donald H. Fry Jr., in charge of the project, expects the five-truck shuttle service to accommodate even the heaviest run of salmon. He said the Division crews will frequently work all night because migrations occur primarily after dark.

Three thefts—two of them unsolved—were reported to local police this week by Daly City merchants.

A young Daly City man, who told police he was unable to find employment, was given a 30-day suspended sentence and placed on one year probation Tuesday for stealing groceries from a local market.

Municipal Judge William J. Sweeney pronounced the suspended sentence after the man admitted to several petty grocery thefts for his "improvised" family.

Two nut vending machines, valued at approximately $10 each, were reported stolen last week from Wit's End Cave.

Proprietors of the Hillside Fish Grotto told police last Thursday that the Mission street establishment was burglarized Wednesday night by thieves who gained entrance by cutting a hole in the screen door. A B-B pen rod with caps, and a night light were found missing.

SMOKE SIGNALS

In keeping with Public Schools Week, the Jefferson Union High School is sponsoring its Open House on Tuesday, April 27, for parents and friends of students who would be interested in various class demonstrations and exhibits. The program will commence at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium with performances by the high school chorus and band. Dr. Spindt, director of admissions at the University of California, will speak.

Before and after the program in the auditorium, exhibitions and demonstrations will be presented in various classrooms of the school. The clothing department will display garments made by the students, and in the next room a class will be in operation. The biology department will have microscopes set up, and each class will present a demonstration. The typing class will give a speed test demonstration. This is a good opportunity for parents of the students to become acquainted with the teachers and to view the students' work.

Much to the relief of most Jefferson students, Wednesday, report card day, is over.

On Wednesday evening, April 14, the first boys' dancing class was held at Jeff. Under the direction of Miss Juanita Young, the dancing classes are held on Wednesday evenings at 7:30 in Room B in the gymnasium. At the first class there was a very large showing which will make it possible for the classes to continue. Modern and social dancing is offered, and after the brief instruction, Miss Young allows the students to dance during the remainder of the evening.

Friday, April 23, will be Vocation Day at Jefferson. From 8:30 a.m. to 9:20 a.m. there will be a general assembly in the auditorium with selections by the J.U.H.S. Band. Remarks will be made by Stanford Hannah, superintendent of the school, and an address will be presented by Donald E. Kitch, chief, Bureau of Occupational Information and Guidance. There will be a girls' assembly from 9:30 a.m. to 10:20 a.m. and a boys' assembly from 10:30 a.m. to 11:20 a.m., alternating with occupational speeches. There will also be an address by F. E. Whitner of the American Trust Company. The program for the day will be terminated at 12:20 p.m., and the remainder of the day will be free.

The eleven students who were chosen by Roy DeVincenzi to be show girls in the Aquacade next month are Terrie Gomez, Helen Plate, Fay Sullivan, Joan Brennan, Betty Martin, Bette Jennings, Rita Bicalalupi, Joy Fogleman, Pat Hosking, Bunny Pillond and Carol Hite.

The tri-level home is an interesting design. In this colonial adaptation, hand split fieldstone and white clapboards are used for a pleasing exterior effect. The lower level activities room is a real center of family living, planned for many uses. Twelve storage wall closets and built-in kitchen and laundry cabinets are evidence of organized storage. With radiant heating all rooms are kept comfortable—no "cold floors" in this home. It comprises 1115 square feet, excluding garage.

Dwelling shown above is a photograph of a scale model of a "cut-out" home which can be obtained from House Beautiful Magazine for $2.00. The model is easily assembled, and gives the prospective home builder an actual model of the home he plans to build, complete with "cut-out" furniture.

By studying the scale model, the prospective builder is enabled to determine what changes he deems necessary before the house is actually built, thereby saving needless expense.

MYSTERY HOUSE

Winchester Mystery House, a touring attraction located three miles west of San Jose, is to have been under construction for 36 continuous years and to have cost more than $5,000,000. The house has 160 rooms, 47 fireplaces, more than 2,000 doors, at least 10,000 windows and 15,000 panes of glass. Construction was halted in 1906 when the eccentric Mrs. Winchester interpreted the earthquake as an expression of displeasure by the spirits.

Exclusive of current expenditures, the entire Trust Fund of the Old Age and Survivors Insurance program is invested in interest-bearing United States government bonds. Interest totaling $163,000,000 was earned by these bonds during the fiscal year 1947.

News Column For The Veterans

Claims sections in the Veterans Administration Branch 12 area (California, Arizona, Nevada and Hawaii) have adjudicated the disability claims of more than 217,000 veterans during the past two years.

Veterans who file claims with VA for disability compensation or pension can help speed up service by observing seven simple rules. They are:

1. Remember to submit complete evidence concerning your physical condition, and the cause of such condition.
2. Spell your name clearly, the same way it appears on your service records.
3. When you are informed of your "C" number, use it in all correspondence with VA.
4. Include your correct address in all correspondence.
5. Avoid all unnecessary correspondence.
6. If you find it necessary to write, address your letters to the VA regional office. In the Branch 12 area VA regional offices are located at San Francisco, Los Angeles, San Diego, Reno, Phoenix, and Honolulu.
7. When requested to report for physical examination, or submit additional evidence, do so promptly. If you cannot, let VA know as soon as possible.

Question: Does the age of World War I and World War II veterans affect the amount of compensation or pension paid to them?

Answer: Compensation for a service-connected disability is not

MATERIEL INSPECTION

(Official Navy Photograph)
Once Over, Heavily, for Old Cannon—American sailors on liberty in Malta from the super-aircraft carrier USS Franklin D. Roosevelt seem impressed by the ancient firing piece on Kingsway, Valetta, Malta, despite their familiarity with the mighty 16-inch rifles on their Navy's battleships.

WATCH WHEELS GO AROUND

Rarely, if ever, do motorists watch the wheels of their cars go around, point out officials of the National Automobile Club's service department. One, however, did so recently as he stood on a corner waiting for his wife to pick him up. As she approached he noticed the wheels of the car. They wobbled as a result of excessive bearing play. He had them adjusted and counts himself today as being ahead several thousand miles of tire service.

WRONG DESTINATION

Pedestrians tempted to take that mid-block short-cut across traffic should remember that it may prove to be a short-cut to the emergency hospital.

affected, but pension for non-service-connected permanent, total disability is increased upon reaching age 65.

Question: I am considered totally disabled for insurance purposes, but receive only 20 per cent for compensation. Can my award be increased?

Answer: Your compensation will be increased only if the service-connected disability is shown to have increased in severity. For insurance purposes, there may be other disabilities, not service-connected, which combined with the compensable condition, produce total disability. Facts and material for determining the existence of permanent and total disability are different in insurance and compensation matters.

Frog Jumping Jubilee Slated For May 14 to 16

The primitive equipment used by the first prospectors who swarmed through the Calaveras hills a century ago will be demonstrated and displayed as a feature of the Calaveras Centennial Fair and Jumping Frog Jubilee May 14, 15, and 16.

Work started this week on the extensive working display which will include an ancient Spanish Arrastra, an Early Day stamp mill brought around Cape Horn by sailing vessel, the cradle and Long Tom, the spring pole mortar, and the gold pan — the most important of all utensils to the early prospector.

Many of the pieces in the display are authentic devices now undergoing rehabilitation. Others will be replicas.

There will not only be demonstrations of gold extraction but also participation events in which Employers will change only the amounts withheld from salary and make no refunds of taxes withheld between January 1st and April 30th. All tax refunds will be paid when the individual income tax returns are filed for the calendar year 1948.

The Collector pointed out that additional instructions concerning the new tax laws, including forms, withholding tax tables and Information for Employers, are now being distributed to the various collection districts by the Bureau. They will be available as soon as received in Collector's Offices.

BRAKES AND BREAKS

Motorists, give your fellow citizens a break in traffic by making sure that your car has four good brakes operating at maximum efficiency, urges the California State Automobile Association.

The public will be invited to take a hand in the operation.

The mine display will be held on the shore of the Frog Town lagoon. On the shore of the lagoon a huge 1-foot overshot water wheel will power a portion of the mine machinery.

A Chinese hydraulic device, loaned by the State Bureau of Mines, will also be in operation.

The inactive display will include the largest collection of minerals and ores shown in the State this year. Retort equipment, assaying devices and other displays both modern and pioneer. The mining activities and display will be held throughout the three days of the jubilee.

Bob Feller Seems To Be Doing O.K.

"Strikeout Story," by Bob Feller, may become the best-selling sports book of all time.

Bantam Books, publisher of the reprint edition, makes this prediction on the basis of the 40,000 hardcover copies already sold and the estimated sales from among the quarter of a million reprints which it will publish on April 15.

The Cleveland pitching ace, whose business career to date shows no signs of a stone unturned, will net between seven and ten thousand dollars from the reprint sale of the book, which is an account of his baseball career.

Besides a $100,000 yearly income from baseball, the highest ever received by a player, Feller draws an estimated $150,000 yearly from other ventures, which include a newspaper column, a radio program, a barnstorming baseball

NEWS FROM THE SCHOOLS

WOODROW WILSON

The students of the seventh and eighth grades are beginning the study of the Founding of Rome. There are many interesting legends about the origin of Rome. The class liked the legend of Aeneas, the favorite one is the story of Romulus and Remus, who were reared by a wolf mother. Another famous story seems to have more foundation in fact. It is that Horatius, "Horatius at the bridge," is a story that no doubt thrilled millions of Roman boys and has done the same for millions of other boys in many lands.

The students of the high sixth and low seventh grades are studying the East Indies. In central Java a great ruined temple called Sarabudur. It is one of the wonders of the world and has statues and reliefs carved on its walls. These carved figures tell the story of the beliefs of the people.

The high fifth grade has started adding fractions with unlike denominators. It is hard at first, especially if you do not pay attention when the proper way to do the problem is explained.

The sixth grade is doing problems in measuring. Sometimes it is hard to remember how many inches make a foot or how many feet make a yard.

The fifth grade boys and girls are studying about the pioneers and explorers of our country. Such names as Daniel Boone, Henry Hudson, Champlain, Father Marquette and Louis Joliet are becoming familiar names in our classroom.

The boys and girls of the high fourth are making posters using colored chalk as the medium. The posters illustrate the products grown in Mexico. They are also completing their notebooks on Mexico, which include all information and illustrations they have learned about our southern neighbor, Mexico.

The members of the low fourth are making a large map of California. They are using the slide machine to flash the map on the paper and members of the class trace from that. When the outline is completed the map will be animated with pictures of early explorers and their routes to California as well as by pictures of the Missions and the padres.

The children of the high third grade are continuing their study of coffee. They have learned when the coffee tree blooms several times a year, one can find blossoms, green cherries and red cherries on it at the same time. The soft flesh of the cherry, like berries, are thrown away and the seeds are washed and dried for market.

The low and high third grade children are going to start a new unit on homes of the world. The children will bring pictures of various types of homes.

CROCKER

Room 6
Eddie Raffo, Don Espinoza, James Bricker, Louis Cortopasse, Norman Cady, Harold Plumere, Stanley Davis and James Dowell have made the A team in softball at Crocker.

These girls are trying out for tennis: Coral Clarke, Jean Zanobini, Otella Morino, Phyllis Blackburn, Arleen Pool, Helen Foster, Janet Foster, Ann Choroski, Florence Matteoda and Jean Eliassen. Bill Hangartner has moved to Redwood City.

The low eighth music class is working on a bulletin board, "Sing for Fun," and is illustrating songs learned in music.

Room 4
These boys are on the B team for softball: Martin Vernice, George Spoulas, Bert McKenna, Larry Neuner, Walter Camozzi, Herbert Stewart, Larry Nafziger and David Guido.

These pupils practiced tennis at Jefferson High on Saturday: Patsy Coffee, Heather Bridges and Carol Jacchi.

Joy Logan and Tony Delfino have returned after a week's absence.

JEFFERSON

Playing its first intra-district baseball game, Jefferson School outplayed Woodrow Wilson by the score of 18 to 6.

Hampered by the absence of Mario Leveroni, first baseman, Jefferson was captained by Faustino Quitevis, who stole the show by hitting a home run over the school fence. The team showed tremendous hitting power in its avalanche of runs over Woodrow Wilson School.

U. C. Men Find 'Myrtle The Turtle'

Discovery of the fossil remains of a 25-million-year-old turtle, somewhat flippantly named "Myrtle the Turtle" by the University of California African Expedition scientists who dug it up, has been reported here in a letter to the University from the expedition's Kenya headquarters.

"Myrtle," who owned to rather liberal proportions, having been some four-and-a-half feet wide and seven feet long, was found in deposits in the semidesert area of Lake Rudolph, Turkana, Kenya, by Dr. Basil Cooke, paleontologist devoted some of their school time for a very purposeful language lesson. Each member wrote an interesting letter to Shirley Ledrick, a classmate, who has been hospitalized from a serious injury as a result of a severe fall at Colombo Hall. Shirley Rasor and Betty Ann Dentone were selected by their classmates as a committee and presented her with the package of letters, magazines, and flowers as a gesture from the class.

In order to have a better understanding and appreciation of one of our famous American documents, the sound film, "The Declaration of Independence," was shown recently to the seventh and eighth grade students of Jefferson. The students first prepared themselves by studying the events that led to the forming of our present freedom and our great American democracy of today. Many members of the class were fortunate enough to see the original copy of the "Declaration of Independence" when they visited the Freedom Train in San Francisco.

for the northern party of the African expedition.

Dr. Cooke said in a report forwarded by Wendell Phillips, leader of the northern party, that "Myrtle" cavorted in a lake which existed in the Lake Rudolph area 25 million years ago.

"Myrtle" lived a hard life, Dr. Cooke reasoned, since she was found sandwiched between thick layers of lava which represent the outpourings of extensive volcanoes of that period. Since there were only brief respites between volcanic outbursts at that time, Dr. Cooke said, living was precarious for "Myrtle" and her cousins.

Things haven't changed much in Turkan in the last 25 million years, Dr. Cooke commented, since the scientists, enduring daily temperatures over 100 degrees, must start their digging at sunrise and stop work by noon. Dr. Cooke also reports little water and less shade.

"Myrtle," the scientist added, bears a strong family resemblance to another turtle found last year by the northern party in the Fayum Desert, Egypt. The Fayum turtle, however, was about twice the age of "Myrtle."

S.F. Moose Women To Have Carnival

Aprons, scarfs, baby apparel and numerous other articles of hand work will be sold this evening, April 22, at the Spring Carnival to be sponsored by Women of the Moose, Chapter 739, in the Odd Fellows building.

Scheduled for 8-10 p.m., the affair will be highlighted by a white elephant table and a post-office booth, as well as several other booths for hand-fashioned linens and the like.

Home made cakes and candy also will be available.

Argentine Policy

Colonel Peron, the "strong-man" of Argentina, is "very much the demagog and opportunist rather than the sincere reformer, but he is also a man of real ability, with a magnetic personality and he should not be underestimated." This is the opinion expressed by Dr. Roland Hussey, associate professor of history, at the first session of a current Institute on History on the Los Angeles campus of the University of California.

"Peron is a man of action rather than thought and probably has no deep ideological allegiances, but he was inherently receptive to the idea of The Leader and a powerful state with himself at its head," Dr. Hussey said, speaking on "The Argentine Situation Since 1923."

United States policy toward Argentina, according to Dr. Hussey, has had only two real goals: the strictly wartime one of preventing Argentina from giving aid and comfort to the enemy, and the long-time one of persuading Argentina to become a fully cooperating member of the Inter-American System. Work towards those goals was handicapped by the controversies and by wartime preoccupations and emotions.

Dr. Hussey himself served as a division chief in the Office of American Republic Affairs and the Office of Intelligence Research of the Department of State, from July, 1944, until September, 1947, thus serving under four secretaries plus an acting secretary.

Muriel Mooney Weds Tom Jones Sat. In Formal Rites

A hail of rice and warm felicitations greeted the newlywed Tom Jones last Saturday afternoon as they left the Capps Street Trinity Church after the formal marriage ceremony which made them husband and wife.

Garbed in formal wedding attire, the young couple was greeted by some 300 guests, minutes later, at a reception in the Community Center at Colma. The bride, the former Muriel Frances Mooney, was given in marriage by her father, Councilman Edward J. Mooney, to Thomas Braxton Jones, in a traditional white wedding ritual performed by the Reverend Cox.

The wedding climaxed a year-long romance which began in the folk dancing class Muriel conducts at suburban Colma. Tom, the son of W. J. Jones sr. and the late Mrs.
Jones, was reared in Dallas, Texas.
An army veteran who saw duty in the European Theatre, he is employed by the John M. Pitcher Co., drilling contractors.

The popular young senior clerk in Daly City's water company office is a graduate of Jefferson Union High School and of San Mateo Junior College. Besides her folk dancing club, Muriel is affiliated with Theta Gamma sorority and the Alpine Club.

The long-trained white slipper satin gown which Muriel chose for her wedding was styled authentically after the bustle dresses of the 19th century. The sweetheart neckline of her fitted bodice was adorned with rolled satin applique, and the long sleeves tapered to a point over the wrist. A single row of heavy white lace faced the hem of her skirt and train.

Her knee-length veil and brief face veil fell from a tiara of rolled satin over her brunette hair. Gold-throated white iris made up her cascade bouquet.

Best man was the bridegroom's brother, W. T. Jones jr., while the bride chose her sister, Mrs. John Pitcher, for her sole attendant.
Three-year-old Merdith Anne Pitcher, dressed in crushed strawberry-colored taffeta with matching horse-hair bonnet, led the wedding procession as flower girl. She carried a miniature basket of pink Cecill Breuner rosebuds.

Mrs. Pitcher, the former Anita Mooney, wore a fuchsia gown drawn up in back in a perky bustle.
Of a matching hue were her long gloves and horse-hair bonnet. Her bouquet, similar to the bride's,
was fashioned of deep blue iris.

Marion Jones, Grover McCul-lorn and Bob Wright were ushers.
The strains of "Because" and "I Love You Truly" were heard during the ceremony. Soloist was basso Jack Hartman.
As hostess at the reception in the flower-bedecked community center, the bride's mother wore a grey afternoon dress with fuchsia

A message to the people of California about the new Federal Income Tax reduction

The income tax reduction just passed by Congress will add extra dollars to your pay check on every payday after May 1. In California alone, this extra income will amount to many millions of dollars a year.

To you as a taxpayer this may be a welcome relief, but it is money most of you have been getting along without. It may be quickly absorbed in your regular, daily expenses—or it may be saved.

Route those tax reduction dollars to a savings account —in any bank—and you'll accumulate a fund with which you can do something worthwhile. Whether your goal be the purchase of United States savings bonds, a fund for a particular purpose, or just the satisfying sense of security that comes from having money in the bank
—the time to start your savings account is now. Save those first extra dollars... and they'll add up fast!

Filming of Prize-Winning Novel, "The Yearling," Emerges As Stirring Triumph

Bringing to the screen an undisputed new star in the person of ten-year-old Claude Jarman Jr., M-G-M's filmization of Marjorie Kinnan Rawlings' Pulitzer Prize-winning novel, "The Yearling," opened yesterday at the Crest Theatre to provide filmgoers with an unforgettable motion picture experience.

With Gregory Peck and Jane Wyman cast as Penny and Ma Baxter, and young Jarman as the lovable Jody, the film faithfully transcribes in Technicolor motion picture terms the story of a courageous, hard-working family who encounter both happiness and tragedy in their struggle to eke out a living from their small plot in Florida's dense scrub country.

All the high points of the Rawlings novel are here—the hunt for the marauding bear, Slewfoot, the pulsating episode in which Penny is bitten by a deadly rattlesnake, the free-for-all village brawl of the roistering Forresters, Jody's adoption of his little fawn, the tragic results which ensue when the gambling deer eats the young corn shocks and tramples down the tobacco crop, rising to the climax of an embittered Jody running away from home only to return later to take his place as a man in the Baxter household.

Gregory Peck and Jane Wyman are perfectly cast as Penny and Ma Baxter; Claude Jarman Jr. has terrific appeal as Jody, and other fine portrayals are contributed by Henry Travers as the genial storekeeper, Joan Wells as the little mix, Eulalie Boyles, Jeff York as the seagoing Oliver, June Lockhart as his girl, Twink, and B. M. "Chick" York as Doc Wilson.

Producer Sidney Franklin, Director Clarence Brown, Paul Osborn, author of the screen play, Herbert Stothart, whose themes from Delius give the woodland scenes a hauntingly beautiful musical accompaniment, and Charles Rosher, director of the brilliant photography, are among the artists who are to be congratulated for producing "The Yearling." It will go down as one of the wonderful pictures of the age.

Augmenting "The Yearling," is "Spoilers of the North," an action drama of the far north, America's last frontier, starring Paul Kelly.

County Blood Bank Increases Slate

To meet the increased demand made on its facilities, the San Mateo County Blood Bank today announced it has gone back to its war-time schedule for taking blood from donors.

New hours for donors follow: Mondays, 3:30 p.m. - 5:30 p.m.; Wednesdays, 9:30 a.m. - 11:30 a.m.; Thursdays, 4:30 p.m. - 6:30 p.m.; Saturdays, 9:30 a.m. - 11:30 a.m.

The blood bank reports that increase in population reflected in increasing demands from hospitals for blood to be used in emergency transfusions, makes necessary the longer new schedule.

The upward swing in demands, which are instantly fulfilled day or night, comes from employee groups, fraternal organizations and individuals who have blood credits at the county bank.

Primo Guaraldi's Mark Fiftieth Year Of Marriage

Last Sunday was an important day in the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Primo Guaraldi, parents of Dray, Harry and Tony Guaraldi, proprietors of the local Central Creamery.

The occasion was the golden anniversary of their wedding. Fifty years ago, on April 18, 1898, the Guaraldi's became husband and wife—at the ages of 20 and 22. They were wed in their home town, Lucca, in northern Italy, and ten days later set out for a honeymoon in the new world.

Landing in New York on May 11, 1898, the young immigrants, who then spoke only in their native tongue, set about learning the language and customs of their new country. They remained in New York for five years, coming west to settle in San Francisco in 1903, after the birth of the first of their eight children.

A carpenter by trade, Primo Guaraldi worked first as a restaurateur and then as a railroad man, later entering the building contracting business with his son. He retired from active business in 1935.

Four generations of the Guaraldi family—from the elderly couple to their young great-grandchildren—were assembled Sunday in their home at 2258 31st avenue, San Francisco, to celebrate the occasion.

At the ages of 70 and 72, the Guaraldi's were ending the 50th year of their honeymoon in the new world.

JAMES DORRANCE FAMILY MOVES TO AMADOR COUNTY

Daly City has lost one of its most active citizens and tireless champions this week in the person of Mrs. James Dorrance, who left with her family yesterday to take up residence in Jackson, Amador county.

Mrs. Dorrance, who has been an active member of the elementary school district board of trustees for the past 10 months, has been prominent in parent-teacher groups for several years. She has been well known as an active participant in all civic projects which have contributed to the growth of the city.

The Dorrances and their two children, Diane, 10, and Jack, 7, pulled up their long-rooted stakes this week and moved to Jackson, where Dorrance has entered into partnership in the Jackson Taxi Cab Service.

In view of the long service Mrs. Dorrance has rendered to the town, Daly City recognizes its loss as Jackson's gain.

Experiences of a teacher in Alaska were recounted for members of the Grace Presbyterian Church Women's Council last Thursday by Miss Nell Taylor of Berkeley, at the group's second all-day meeting in the church.

The meeting was preceded at 11 a.m. by an executive committee meeting, presided over by Mrs. Walter Kessler. Circle Two played host at a 12:30 luncheon attended by some 50 women. Mrs. Lella Frazier was chairman.

The afternoon devotional program, presented by Mrs. Georgia Larson, was highlighted by a vocal rendition of "The Lord's Prayer" by Mrs. Helen Greig.

N.D.G.W. Campaign Successful In U.S. Savings Bonds

Individual Americans own more U. S. Savings Bonds today than they did at any period during the war.

This was pointed out today by El Camello Parlor No. 181, the local unit of the Native Daughters of the Golden West, which has conducted a state-wide campaign in the interest of Government Savings Bonds since the end of the war.

"It is significant that, of the 52-billion in Government Savings Bonds now outstanding, 46-billions are held and owned by individuals," officials of the local parlor said today.

"These invested dollars are doing double duty. First, they are taken out of the present market, thus being available for expenditure on scarcity goods. This factor, more than any other, helps combat increased inflation.

Second, they represent dollars shifted away as future buying power, for use when every dollar will buy more and help keep our business humming—and our national economic position strong.

The Native Daughters of the Golden West, through its state-wide activity, has promoted the sale of millions of dollars worth of Savings Bonds, particularly through its "Baby Gift Bond" program. They encourage the purchase of a Savings Bond for newborn babies. When advised that a Bond has been purchased in the name of a child, the organization sends, without charge, special certificate drawn by the famous Walt Disney.

DON'T SHIFT GEARS

As a safety precaution, avoid shifting gears when crossing a railroad track, the California State Automobile Association advises. If the automobile motor stalls on a grade crossing, leave the car in gear and press the starter button. There is generally sufficient energy in the battery to move the car to a place of safety.

By that date the board is to adopt an order approving the preliminary budget for public hearings.

Fazio, Freeman Faring Well With Farm Club Teams

Bill Freeman and Fred Fazio, Daly City's star baseball pitchers, who left early this spring to train with the big league farm clubs, are both faring well with their respective teams, according to word received here this week.

Letters from both Bill and Fred were received Saturday by Dray Guaraldi, one of the sponsors of the former Central Creamery baseball club, along with greetings to their host of fans in Daly City.

Freeman's letter, dated April 15 from Yakima, Washington, disclosed that the former local mound star might get the starting assignment in the season opener for the Seals' C team. He had gone undefeated, pitching several exhibition games and a few inter-squad contests. Yakima, Bill said, is a terrific baseball town.

Bill and his wife Ginny finally have settled in a comfortable apartment after no less than five moves. Yakima's housing facilities, he said, are even more crowded than San Francisco's.

Fazio, writing from Abilene, Texas, on April 13, has had a slightly less victorious time of it with the Dodgers' Blue Sox team there, although striking quite a record individually. The Sox went down before a strong St. Paul team and again before Fort Worth—in the AAA and AA classes.

The local hurler, however, got a two-bagger pinch-hitting for the Sox last week, and is one of the seven pitchers left, out of 10 when the practice started.

Planners Start Action On Pillar Point Breakwater

First move toward construction of a breakwater at Pillar Point in Half Moon Bay got underway last week when the county planning commission directed its committee to start negotiations to acquire land at El Granada.

The land in question will be a part of the property needed for public recreation purposes and public mooring, as required by the federal government. Negotiations are being started with representatives of the John Patroni estate, owner. The committee is to determine the amount of land available and its cost.

The committee has been directed to earmark the parcels of land desired before their prices rise—$3,000 per acre being the current approximate price.

The county now is awaiting federal action on the proposed $5,500,000 project, which is expected to provide harbor for light fishing vessels and pleasure craft.

Local Army Vet New Member Of Marine Reserve

Local men in the ranks of 12th Infantry Battalion, USA, include both novices and veterans. Among the latter is "Hands" Harry Kent, 420 Bellevue ave.

Corporal Kent is a squad leader in the machine gun platoon, where he is studying the nomenclature, functioning, and field stripping the light and heavy .30 cal. guns.

The 6 foot 2 inch, 215-pound University of California junior (zoology major) is new to the Marine Corps. The former army sergeant (son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Kent sr.) is not new to the military, however. After his Jefferson High School graduation, Valetictorian Kent put in a year hitch in the United States Army.

After an army-sponsored sojourn at Stanford and Oregon State universities, the Block 'J' Soldier member turned infantryman, war's end he was in a replacement battalion earmarked for Panama duty. The following year found him doing duty in Panama as a 1st year hitch in the United States Army.

The 21-year-old bachelor, born in San Francisco, but received his early education at Crocker School. He was a scout and patrol leader in Troop 149 (disbanded), Boy Scout of America. Kent also served aboard the local Sea Scout "Alaqua," and played guard on Jefferson pigskinners of 1943.

The curve in his profile (or nose) to use a vulgarism) is the result of an unfortunate ball-hopping incident when he played shortstop the high school's Frosh-Soph ball team.

"I like the infantry battalion," Kent tells us. "The pay isn't half bad, the clothing allowance is generous, and the training is suitable to a civilian who was 'go stale'."

He concluded with "I was proud to be a soldier; I am proud to be a Marine."
